The Song and Story Recital.

The entertainment in Seaver's hall Wednesday evening by Miss Marion Bickford and Miss Gertrude Skinner, "Songs and Stories from Many Lands," was enthusiastically received by a fairly large audience. To say that the program was of exceptional merit is only to use a stereotyped phrase, but that the numbers were enthusiastically enjoyed from the first group of songs to the very last number on the program, shows that the audience were appreciative. Miss Bickford's voice this season shows plainly that her expression and technique is rapidly approaching that flexibility and smoothness so much desired by the truly great artists and her voice covers that melodious range of the mezzo-soprano which never goes to the nerve-breaking pitch. Her selections were especially well chosen and are the songs we like to hear. We can hear bird trills at first hand, but that Irish song, "A Little Bit of Heaven," sort of gets down near the heart strings and we are glad the lights are down a bit. Miss Skinner's story telling is a novel feature to us, and she tells her stories in a most interesting manner. The Norwegian fairy tale we believe was her best number, but all were good. Miss Sadie Lothrop of Orleans, who substituted as accompanist to Miss Bickford at a very late hour showed herself to be a musician of rare skill and competent upon the shortest notice of handling properly some difficult music.

FAIR AT HIGH TIDE

Greatest Lives'ock-Exhibit Ever. Seventy Race Horses Here. Large Attendance Today Two More Big Days Expected.

In many respects the exhibit of livestock at this fair was never excelled if ever equalled on the Barton fair grounds. Most of the exhibitors are home folks and the exhibits give a more accurate idea of the stock raised and kept in Orleans county and surrounding territory than before. The showing of dairy types of cattle proves that our dairymen are fast forging ahead in blooded stock and that no county in the state can claim a better showing than Orleans.

Other departments are above par on exhibits. The ladies will find floral hall a paradise of fancy work and all the things women love to look upon. There is a large exhibition of oil paintings this year which are worth the while to visit.

The string of race horses was never exceeded in the history of the fair, over 70 horses being present and hoping to win some of the race purses. There will be many starters in almost every class and there are bound to be some exciting races with many heats to decide. The crowd today exceeds the crowd any Wednesday has brought to the fair in years and two more big days are promised. Don't think Friday will be a race day entirely. It will be just as good as the others, as all the premium stock will be kept on the grounds until afternoon and all exhibits kept, there will be the ball games at 10 o'clock all the stage attractions and other amusements. Fakirs' row is large and lusty. Everything is right to go to attend the Barton fair and enjoy yourself.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Thompson, who have been spending the past two weeks at Long pond camping, have returned.

Mrs. A. A. Larabee was at Minton, P. Q., the past week on account of the illness of her mother and sister there.

John Keating, a contractor of Waterbury, Conn., is the guest of his uncle, John Keating, at the latter's farm this week.

Mrs. Wilcox and daughter, Miss Katherine Wilcox, of Morgan, are guests of Miss Lydia Colburn, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Batchelder and Miss Gertrude Skinner attended the Chautauqua at Newport the last of the week.

Misses Ruby and Isabel Campbell have returned from Lake Willoughby, where they have been stopping for some time.

Bert Lewis of Northampton, Mass., has been spending the past two weeks with relatives and friends here and at Craftsbury.

A 27-day escorted party to California, Oct. 11. All expense plan. Write Don C. Stiles, St. Johnsbury, experienced escort.

Mrs. J. Flint of Brownington visited her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Buswell, the past week, at the Buswell home on High street.

Walter Goodro and family entertained about twenty guests at dinner Sunday, it being a reunion of the Goodro families.

Rev. I. A. Ranney has gone to Waits River and will return with Mrs. Ranney, who has been visiting there for several weeks.

Dr. John Bryant, who has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. Edith Comstock, left Sunday night for an extended Western trip before returning to his practice in Boston.

Several Real Estate Deals.

Real estate deals of over $25,000 have been consummated in the village during the past few days. W. E. Hanson has sold his farm located in the village to a Canadian party for $16,000 through the Open Real Estate company. Possession will, we understand, be given in October. Mrs. Hanson has sold her new home on Elm street to Wesley Mitchell and Mr. Mitchell has already taken possession. O. H. Mossman has bought the H. V. Drown place with the automobile stalls and shop on Main street and will take possession immediately, while Mr. Drown will occupy the tenement on the second floor of the house. W. E. Hanson and family will move to the Dewey place after it has been generally repaired and a large veranda added.

A Good Show.

La Tena's Animal circus showed to two good audiences on Friday, and the whole story is really told in saying they pleased and satisfied audiences. The parade at 10:30 was sufficient promise of the fulfillment of their bill work to draw the crowd.

What they had in the way of standard circus—flying trapeze, horizontal bar, contortion and riding—was high class and they had an aggregation of clowns that were funny in their team work. But La Tena will be remembered longest in Barton for the trained animals, which were a predominating feature. Remarkable intelligence was shown by elephants, bears, lions, dogs and ponies, but the most wonderful, as well as the most novel feature was the trained seals. It was altogether a clean show.

Mrs. Adella J. Copeland of Melrose Highlands, Mass., and Mrs. Lucy Robinson visited their cousins in Coventry last week.

Mrs. C. A. Currier and daughter, Josephine of Philadelphia are guests of Mr. Currier's mother, Mrs. S. C. Currier, for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Plunkett have returned from their honeymoon trip and will board at Mrs. Carrie Burnham's for the present.

The 5th annual reunion of the class of 1910 of Barton academy will be held at Pisgah Lodge, Willoughby lake, on Thursday, August 26th.

Mrs. Etta Edwards of Barre and her two nephews are visiting at Mrs. Edwards' parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Smith on Glover street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Burdick and little daughter, Grace, of Dorchester, Mass., have been visiting his uncle, F. G. Burdick, a few days.

Madame Henry Cutler was hostess of an automobile party at Willoughby lake where they dined at Pisgah Lodge one day last week.

Mrs. Edith Comstock and daughter, Miss Pearl, will go this week to Haverhill, Mass., where Mrs. Comstock will make her new home.

C. S. Webster and Raymond Wilson of the bank force attended the midsummer meeting of the Vermont Bankers' association held at Barre Monday.

Miss Hazel McLellan and Miss Lillian Robinson recently entertained the Misses Hazel Harris, Dale Whitney and Gladys Wingate of Orleans Friday.

H. A. Harding has bought for a Vermont syndicate a very valuable paper from Goshen, Ind., and the horse will arrive in time to be raced at several of the fairs this season.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Parker, Mrs. Carroll and Miss Virginia Gott are guests at the home of W. H. Gilpin and will visit in Orleans. They came by automobile from Falls Church, Va.

Golda Mae Jenness.

Golda Mae Jenness, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Jenness, died at their home on the Willoughby road, August 10 of heart trouble. She had been ill for more than a year and critically so during the past few weeks. Golda Jenness was born in Barton on Sept. 6, 1901 and lacked but a month of her fourteenth birthday. Three younger sisters survive her. The funeral services were from the home, Rev. I. A. Ranney officiating and burial was in Welcome O. Brown cemetery. There was a great profusion of flowers, the grave at the cemetery being literally covered with wreaths and beautiful bouquets.

CARD—We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness throughout the illness and death of our loved one. Also for the beautiful flowers, sent to make the day brighter for her and us. May God's blessing strengthen you in your hour of trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Jenness and family.

Three second and two fourth prizes went to horses entered and driven by H. W. Harting at Littleton at the races there the past week.

Mrs. Clara Wilson, who has been with her sister, Mrs. C. P. Jenness at Hotel Barton for several weeks, is visiting friends in Sheffield.

Mrs. Walter Babcock and daughter, Miss Marguerite of Brooklyn, N. Y., have been guests at the home of Mrs. W. M. Wright the past week.

Dr. J. W. Stacey and Miss MacClure of Springfield, Mass., are with Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Baldwin at the Stacey-Baldwin camp in Lake grove.

Miss Clara Colburn of New York, who is principal of a young ladies' school in New York City, is the guest of her sister, Miss Lydia Colburn.

Miss Eliza Clark of Boston was the guest of her niece, Mrs. Adelbert Brunning and attended the Clark family reunion at Glover last week.

The much-heralded "oiling of the streets," became a reality on Thursday before the fair, and even if it does track in a little dust nuisance seems to have been abated.

Among some over 80 automobilists, who were taken to task at Morrisville recently for not blowing their horns at street crossings, was C. T. Miles of Barton. Barton has always been a bit lax on blowing its own horn.

There will be no social at Le Beau Lac Boat Club house Thursday night on account of fair week, but these socials have been a success and will be continued again, beginning Thursday of next week and each Thursday evening for some time.

Mrs. C. H. Harriman of Albany, N. Y., was a guest at the home of A. R. Cowles last week. She will make one of a party of six who start this week for the Pacific coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Kinney of Craftsbury, Mr. and Mrs. Gebbie of Greensboro and Mrs. McLaren.

Mrs. Lucy Atanasova and children of Sofia, Bulgaria, is the guest of her sister, Miss Mary Wheeler, at the home of Miss Isadore Foss, on Main street. Mrs. Atanasova says conditions in the Balkan states are in a very turbulent state and she expects to remain here until affairs have some what settled themselves.

The interest of our townspeople in the coming W. C. T. U. state convention is being shown in various substantial ways. A food sale to provide money for the necessary expenses of the convention was held Saturday and netted $21. Preparations for the medal contest are going steadily forward under the direction of Mrs. H. K. Cutler and Mrs. F. D. Thompson. Everything points to an enthusiastic and successful convention.
